

Horses

People race horses. They make them run and jump. Horses can run very fast. They can jump pretty high. They can jump over tree stumps. They can jump over humps. In races, horses jump over walls or fences. They jump over four feet high. Plump horses cannot jump as high. They cannot run as fast. People do not race plump horses.

Horses like to run and jump. When a horse is tired, she will rest. Horses can sleep standing up. They lock their legs and close their eyes. When a horse is very tired, she may slump to the ground and lay down like a lump. She will sleep lying down if she is in a safe place.
