

Written by Lisa Webber
Illustrated by C.Johnson 2008
www.cjohnson.myexpose.com

Hail

Hail is little pellets of frozen rain. Hail falls from the sky. It can hail when it is very cold outside. It can hail instead of rain or snow. Without fail, in a hailstorm, snails and animals with tails look for cover. You will still get your mail. Mail is delivered even in hail. It does not feel good to get hit with hail. It feels like being poked with nails.