

The Goal

Coco plays in a weekly soccer game. She likes running. She likes that the game moves quickly. She has to watch the ball closely. Last week, Coco had a great game. At half time, she walked sadly off the field. She had not touched the ball even once. Then it was the second half. Coco made a great play. Lee had the ball. He was taking it up the field. Coco was running quickly. She was on the other side of the field from Lee. Someone on the other team ran towards Lee. Lee acted quickly. He kicked the ball to Coco. She softly tapped it to get it in the right spot. Then, she kicked it hard. It went right past the goalie and into the goal. Coco jumped up and down. She proudly ran towards Lee. They gave each other a high five. Coco walked happily off the field. It was a great game.
